

Tobacco and Beer.

Cost as much as they ever did and there is as much sold and used of desirable mercantile business suffers failure and loss. Did you ever know of a saloon or cigar stand to fail? We don't remember one such failure.

If you use tobacco or beer, or both, drop it and bring the money it costs you and we will take it and build you a home for your family and you need not pay us a cent but what you save on those worse than useless habits. We are not preaching you are talking sense and making you a fair business proposition. There is not a boy or young man who is now using tobacco but what, if he will drop the habit, for three or five years and drop the same amount of money into the slot of buying a building lot, can own a good homestead and not have it cost him a cent besides at the end of the few years he will have better health and be a better man. What say you boys, is the thing worth trying?

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Forcing the Fight.

Let's swear off waiting for good times and force the fight. Sitting down and mourning that "the times are out of joint" will gather no moss, notwithstanding what has been asserted that the rolling stone don't get there much. Our experience teaches us that there is no good thing, no success of any kind coming to any of us except through work. "Trimming sails" is all right during a storm but it don't storm all the time: there is sunshine and gentle breezes all along through life and when they are upon us let's spread sail enough to catch the breeze and sail on. People want homes and they can get them today as surely as they could last week or last year. Possibly not so easily but just as surely if they will only get up and do it. If you can't have a home if you try. We have or will build any kind you want, come and see us.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

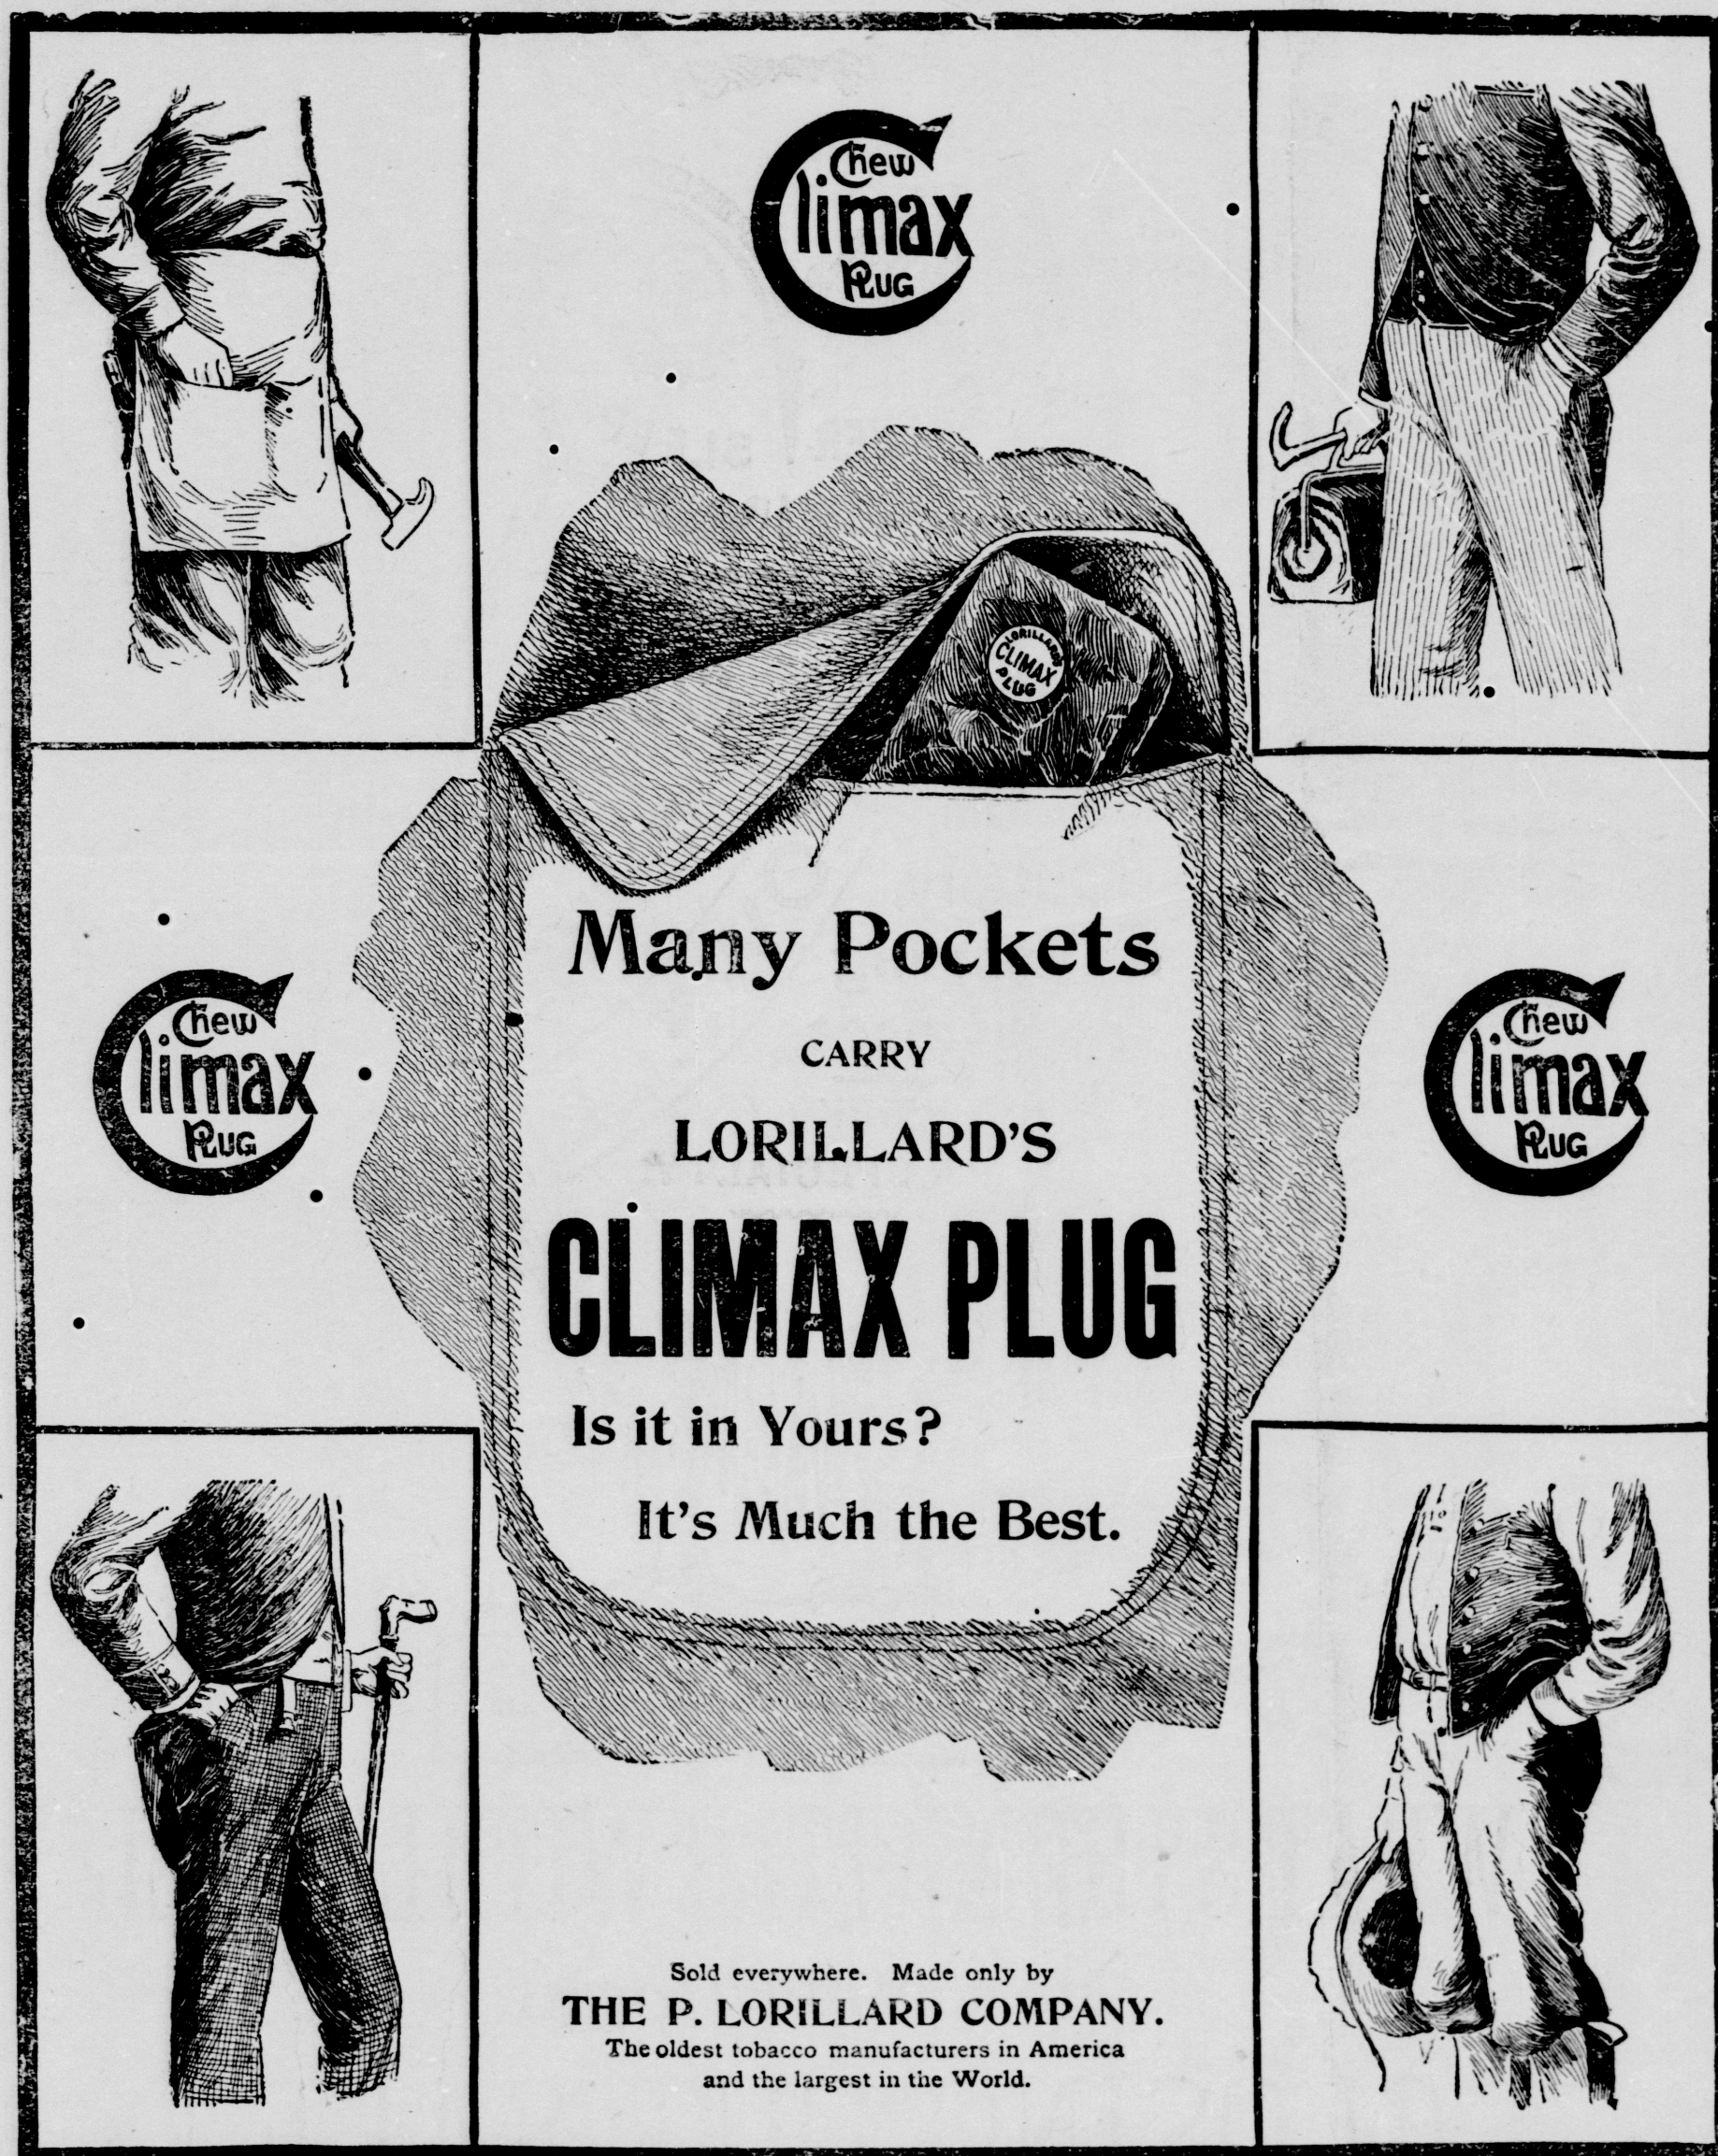

1893 and What?

What has 1894 in store for us is the very important question. To us it seems that fair prosperity and fair success depends almost entirely upon ourselves. We are sure that if the "press" of the country, the calamity howling press, would shut up, "dry up," as it were and let business take its course that all would be well. There are reasons why the present pressure has been and is yet upon us, but the chief one of all is the calamity howlery. Let us all start in the New Year, do our level best for ourselves and our neighbors, put in our "best ticks" for the right; work as we never worked before; economize as perhaps we never did before; have faith in our neighbors, in ourselves and in God and we will pull through and before May 1, 1894, we shall see business on a sound basis and while perhaps it may be not as large or quite as profitable as it was the early months of 1893, it will be safe and remunerative. Calamity howling followed up to its legitimate result has been the cause of half at least of the failures of latter months 1893.

We are going to nail the above to our mast and sell and buy right along in the forth that we shall win. If you want a HOME or HOMESTEAD, you will find us up to the times, in low prices and easy terms and we will treat you so well that you will own one or the other before 1895 reaches us, if you will do your part, in the same spirit that we will do ours.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

In the earlier periods of life trees increase much faster than when adult—the oak, for instance, grows more rapidly between the twentieth and thirtieth years—and when old the annual deposits considerably diminish, so that the strata are thinner and the rings proportionately closer.

BIG BELOIT FACTORIES ARE BUNCHED IN ONE

The Williams Engine Co. and the Eclipse Wind Engine Co. Are Merged.

FAIRBANKS, MORSE & CO. THE OWNERS

The New Scheme Will Result In Much Good To The Line City.

BELOIT, Jan. 2.—Saturday the manufacturing corporations of the Eclipse Wind Engine company, the Williams Engine and Clutch works and all corporations of which they are the successors, which have been so instrumental in the past in promoting the growth and general prosperity of Beloit, were transferred to and became the manufacturing department of the corporation of Fairbanks, Morse & Co. of Chicago. To Beloit this important change means a great deal now, but much more for the future. It definitely insures the permanent location in this city of the consolidated manufacturing interests of one of the largest manufacturing corporations in the country, and it insures to Beloit a permanent employment for many of its people. G. W. Sparks, the present manager of the Eclipse Wind Engine company, will continue in charge of the office of the works and H. E. Probert, present manager of the Williams works, will be mechanical manager of the shops.

SENATOR VILAS AND THE ROSTER

He Is "Vindicated" Before He Took His Departure For Washington

MADISON, Jan. 2.—Senator W. F. Vilas was this morning examined before a court commissioner as to what he knew about the roster case. The move was made to give Senator Vilas a chance to say he took no part in the roster job except to give his opinion, after the state printer had read the riot act to the governor, that the latter had better cancel the shameful contract. The senator wants to vindicate himself before returning to Washington. State Senator Bashford is one of the reform democrats involved in the suit.

CHICAGOANS TO SEE THE BIG FIGHT

Over a Thousand Tickets Are Sold in the World's Fair City.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Nearly one thousand tickets for the Corbett-Mitchell contest at Jacksonville have already been disposed of in this city, despite the fact that the sporting element is in a decidedly impetuous condition. Many of them, unwilling to be counted as missing in the amphitheatre of what promises to be one of the great fights of the decade, have "touched" their friends from New York to San Francisco in order to procure the wherewithal for a ticket to Jacksonville and return and the necessary expenses.

BETRAYED HER HUSBAND.

Arrest of a Peddler for Murder Committed Nine Years Ago.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Nine years ago Mrs. Gottlieb Stahl, a wealthy and miserly old woman, who kept a small saloon on Monroe street in this city, was murdered and robbed of $1,100. Yesterday morning, acting on information received in a telegram signed by the prisoner's divorced wife, George Kohler, a peddler and huckster living in this city, was arrested charged with the murder. The woman wanted the reward of $3,000. Kohler was overcome with fright when apprehended, but denied knowledge of the case. The chief of police of Peru, Ind., was instructed to arrest the complaining witness, Mrs. Kohler. She will be brought to Toledo and the truth of her story tested. A question about the case was the fact that both the husband and son of the murdered woman committed suicide by hanging.

New Governor for Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 3.—Hon. Charles T. O'Ferrall was yesterday inaugurated governor of Virginia with great ceremony. Judge L. L. Lewis, president of the Supreme Court of Appeals, administered the oath. This ceremony took place from the southern portico of the capitol. Gov. O'Ferrall then delivered a long inaugural address.

The road will be extended to Toledo in the spring, lives being at the head of the enterprise and the success of competing with the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton.

WANT NO CHANGE IN WOOL TARIFF

Indiana Farmers Meet to Send a Petition to Congress

WARSAW, Ind., Jan. 2.—A circular signed by a number of sheep growers of this part of the state, many of them being democrats, is being sent out today by flock owners throughout the country. It urges the signing of a petition to congress protesting against any reduction in the present duties on wool, on the ground that any change in the existing schedule would practically ruin the American wool industry. The sheep growers of the country are urged to sign party sympathies, and to unite for the protection of their business interests.

FOR A SHORT SESSION.

Gov. McKinley Does Not Believe in Wasting Any Time.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 2.—The first session of the seventy-first general assembly started yesterday without a ripple. The proceedings consisted in the election of the nominees of the republican caucus in both the senate and house and the adoption of the usual preliminary motions required at the organization of each new legislature. In accordance with the recommendation of Gov. McKinley the biennial session scheme was sprung early. Mr. Beckham of Lucas offered a resolution to that effect.

Mr. Lock of Madison also offered a resolution for a sine die adjournment of the general assembly May 1, 1904. The message of Gov. McKinley was then received, and its reading attentively received.

Gov. McKinley's message opens with a reference to the prolonged industrial depression, from which he says there is no prospect of immediate relief. "A short session and little legislation," says he, "would be appreciated in a time like this." The auditor's statement of the condition of the state treasury Nov. 15, is then given to introduce the question of taxation. There may be some doubt," he continues, "about the biennial session, but, being pledged to give it, there should be a trial of it provided for by this republican legislature. If the burden of taxation were made to rest equally upon all property there would be no occasion in Ohio to complain that it was a grievous burden. Intangible property in this state, he declares, almost wholly escapes taxation. One class of property should not be exempted at the expense of other property. Tax laws should not be framed so as to confiscate property or drive capital from the state." The governor recommends that the request for $75,000 to erect buildings on the agricultural experiment farm at Wooster be granted so far as state revenues will permit.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON CAUSES A $500,000 LOSS

The Globe Theatre Building Burned To the Ground For The Second Time.

FIFTEEN OTHER BUILDINGS DAMAGED

Blaze Will Cost Half a Million Dollars With Half That Amount Of Insurance.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 2.—The Globe theater was destroyed by fire early this morning. At 2 o'clock several immediate exposures were blazing and it looked as if the entire square in which the theater building is located will burn. This includes buildings between Essex, Washington and Harrison avenues and Hayward place. If these structures are destroyed the loss will be $1,000,000.

At 3 a. m. the fire seemed to be under control. There is probably not one of the fifteen buildings in the square that is not more or less damaged. The total loss will be $500,000.

The insurance is not known definitely, but an agent said he felt certain one-half the loss was covered.

The heaviest losses outside of the theater are Bryant & Straton's business college, C. E. Weyeth, hats and gloves; L. Benari, boots and shoes; R. T. Almy & Co., clothing; Flynn & Mahoney, printers and dealers in Catholic books and church furniture; S. C. Chase & Co., rubber goods; Hotel Pierpont, Leach's sewing machine emporium, Wilcox & Gibbs, sewing machines.

The loss on the Globe theater will be $250,000. Hanlon brothers lose $100,000 worth of scenery used in the presentation of "Superba."

Fire was found in the cloak room of the theater at 1:15 this morning. The flames spread with great rapidity, and at 1:30 the auditorium was a mass of flames. An alarm was rung in from the clock theater box at 1:30 o'clock, followed by a second, third, fourth and general alarm. At this it was evident the theater was a total loss.

The watchman in the theater made his usual trip at 1 o'clock and says at that time there was no evidence of fire. At 1:10 he thought he smelt smoke and started to make an investigation. He visited the stage, but discovered no evidence of fire there. He then started to go into the auditorium, and as he did so saw smoke coming from the coat room. He had hardly reached the door when flames burst through and he was compelled to leave the theater. He sounded an alarm. At 1:30 the theater was a roaring mass of flames.

The theater is owned by Harriet C. Baldwin, and extends from Washington street to Harrison avenue extension, with two entrances, one on Hayward place and the other on Washington street. The stage entrance is from Harrison avenue.

At 1:50 the flames spanned an alley in the rear of the theater, setting fire to the corset factory of John P. Harner on the Harrison avenue extension. The firemen were then driven from this building, from which they had been fighting the fire. They hardly had left the roof when the explosion occurred and flames shot into the air fifty feet. Five minutes later another explosion occurred and within ten minutes there were three more explosions.

The Globe theater burned this morning is the second theater of that name on the site. The first, originally Selwyn's theater, was built in 1867 and in 1873 was destroyed by fire. The structure just burned was built in 1874.

FOUR BURNED AT BUFFALO.

Fifteen Cent Lodging House Destroyed by Fire With Fatal Results.

BUFFALO, Jan. 2.—[Special]—Lizzie Haskett's fifteen cent lodging house burned this morning entailing a loss of $10,000. Four were killed they being:

Mary Coleman.
Isaac Bradley.
Unknown man.
Unknown man.

Several others were injured, some of them seriously. The fire originated on the ground floor in the kitchen and probably started from the heating apparatus. There were about thirty lodgers in the building under Mrs. Haskett's charge, as she herself stated on being rescued in a considerably scorched condition from a window on the first floor. The building, which was formerly used as a wagon factory by H. D. Taylor & Co., is said to have been filled up with rubbish, but the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames before they broke out of the building. Had it not stood on an alley a serious conflagration might have resulted. As it is the inside of the place is ruined, though the walls of the four-story building can scarcely be injured. A dozen were seriously injured.

Disastrous Fire in Passaic, N. J.

PASSAIC, N. J., Jan. 2.—Two three-story brick buildings, forming part of Edward Kip's block at Jefferson street and Main avenue, were gutted by fire yesterday afternoon. The burned buildings cover an area of 125 by 75 feet, and the total loss will be $60,000. If the water supply had been adequate the loss would not have been more than a few hundred dollars.

Populists of Two States Confer.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 2.—The populists of Missouri and a delegation of their Kansas brethren held a conference yesterday in the parlors of the Centropolis hotel to outline a plan of campaign for Missouri. The state central committee met in executive session, while an open conference of delegates and visitors from the two states was held in the parlors. W. C. Atkinson of Butler was elected chairman. They declared for an issue of paper money in small denominations.

PROTECTING BLUE JACKETS.

Capt. Pickering Stops Shore Leaves for Fear of Yellow Fever.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 2.—Capt. Pickering of the cruiser Charleston, who is in command of the American naval squadron here, has issued an order to the commanders of the vessels of the fleet instructing them to cut off the shore leave hitherto given to the seamen, marines and others of the crews. This curtailment of shore liberty is due to the fact that the yellow fever season is approaching and Capt. Pickering is determined to keep the warships free of the disease if possible. There is little danger of any one on board the warships contracting the disease so long as shore leave is stopped.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a letter from a well informed correspondent saying a great change may be expected in the Brazilian situation in a fortnight's time. The Peixoto government, he says, is awaiting the arrival of five torpedo boats, which are expected to put an entirely different aspect on the naval situation in Brazilian waters. These boats, though built in Germany, were negotiated for by a British firm. Three of them left a southern English port Friday and the other two the day following.

The joint democratic caucus will renominate United States Senator William Lindsay in a few days.

Cleveland Suffering from Toothache.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—A report has been current here for several days that the President has been suffering with some tooth trouble, which rumor naturally associates with the disorder for which he was operated upon last summer. It is said that on two or three occasions he has received intimate friends with his face tied up in flannels. No confirmation can be had of these rumors. They are denied by the President's close friends, who point to his healthy appearance as conclusive evidence of his excellent physical condition.

Southern Railroad Receivers Quality.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 2.—St. John Doyle and Gen. Echols have qualified in the United States court as receivers of the Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern railroad and also as receivers of Short Road railroad, in bonds of $50,000 and $10,000, respectively. Col. John MacLeod formally accepted this morning the receivership of the Ohio Valley railroad. All the receivers mentioned above took charge last night at midnight.

Killed on a Trolley Line.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 2.—Jacob Hartman, a motorman on the Catharine and Bainbridge streets trolley line, met death last night in a peculiar manner. There was some trouble with the trolley wire and Hartman was leaning over the front dasher looking up at the wire when his car overran a switch and collided with another car, crushing his head against the woodwork and killing him almost instantly.

Friend, defaulting cashier of the Catholic Knights of America, filed pleas of accord in the Federal court at Chattanooga, agreeing to a compromise of the case by paying $12,700. Kennedy Elected Mayor of Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 2.—Robert J. Fleming, who has been mayor of Toronto for the last two years, was defeated for re-election by Warren Kennedy by a majority of 4,000. Out in a Blizzard.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the fiercest blizzards of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. For sale by Palmer & Stevens, druggists.

R. C. Taylor, Murfreesboro, Tenn., writes: "I have used the Japanese Pile Cure with great satisfaction and success." Sold by Smith's Pharmacy, Janesville.

RAPID SPRINT OF A NEEDLE.

Five Inches in Three Days through a Philadelphia Woman's Flesh.

The record for the rapid travel of a needle through human flesh was broken in a case which recently came under the notice of the surgeons at Hahnemann hospital, Philadelphia. A large needle, which became imbedded in the back of the left thigh of Mary A. Walsh, a domestic, had worked itself through five inches of fleshy tissue in a little over three days. The woman was seized on Thursday morning, and it was on that day that the needle in some strange way must have penetrated the back of the thigh. She felt some slight pain, but was not seriously inconvenienced by it. Day after day the pain seemed to shift a trifle, but she did not pay particular attention to it until the following Monday, when it became so severe that in the afternoon she went to the Hahnemann hospital, where she complained of a sharp pain in the fore part of the thigh. Dr. Waaser made an examination and found the point of the needle above the surface. He made a small incision and laid bare enough of the needle to permit of its being seized with a pair of tweezers and pulled it out. The needle was black as ink, having been oxidized by the action of the blood. The patient recognized it, by the peculiar way in which it was bent, as the needle with which she had been sewing on Thursday morning. It had traveled five inches in a little over three days, which, according to the Hahnemann surgeons, beats all previous sprinting records among needles.

BLEW PAINT OFF THE MAST.

Was a Snorter If the Captain Was Not a Precedent.

Captain Hurlbut of the British bark Bowman B. Law, considers himself fortunate in coming out of a terrible typhoon in the China seas, not without a scratch, but without the loss of any of his crew, or even a spar or sail. This is his experience as he related it:

"We left Sourabaya, Java, bound for the Columbia river. All went well for the first week. The men put in their time well about the ship, and the particular job that was attended to was painting the mizen-topmast. This was wood, the other masts and topmasts being iron. I noticed that the paint on the spar blistered more or less under the tropical sun.

"One fine afternoon, under a clear sky, the storm came on. There was hardly any warning. The typhoon shot out of the gulf of Siam as though it came from a cannon. What in the distance was a ripple on the surface of the sea, as it approached us became a feathery, foam-dashed mass of waves, and the next minute the hurricane struck us. All sail was stowed away, and we tore ahead under bare poles at locomotive speed. When the fury of the typhoon abated the mizen-topmast, however, was bent of paint. The wind had blown the blister off and nothing remained but the uncovered wood."

Face Tired.

A well-known caricaturist says that he frequently gets "face tired." "As I draw," he explains, "unconsciously my face assumes the expression of the people I am trying to represent in a distorted way, and, as a result, at the end of a couple of hours I find myself compelled to rest, not my eyes nor my hands, but my face. I do this either by lying down or by going out on the street with the determination of spending my time looking at things and not at people, for I find I study their faces at the expense of my own. I take a keen delight in my work, and that is the reason I suppose that I am so sympathetic with it."

Judging from the manner in which "my Hawaiian policy" was handled by congress, somebody will soon have to change it from "my congress to my house."

Part of Wilson's Force Escaped.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 2.—Advices received from Bulawayo say native runners who have arrived there state positively that a portion of the force of Capt. Wilson, reports of the massacre of which by the Matabele have been current for some time, escaped from the natives and fled in the direction of the Hartley Hills.

As in the past, the coming new year will be ushered in by the appearance of a fresh almanac, clearly setting forth the nature, uses and operation of this medicine of world wide fame. VARIANCE OF VIEWS

Income Tax Causing Much Discussion—Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Members of the majority of the ways and means committee were in session until nearly midnight at the treasury department, trying to reach a conclusion in regard to the imposition or rejection of an income tax. Owing to the absence of Representative Bynum, it was deemed inadvisable to take a vote, and after a session of over three hours, an adjournment was agreed upon until this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when it is the expectation that a vote will be reached.

There were ten members of the committee in attendance at the meeting, but they were evenly divided on the proposition, so that a determination of the vexatious problem hinges upon the vote of the Indiana congressman, Mr. Bynum. It is pretty well understood that the majority on the ways and means committee is divided 6 to 5 in favor of an income tax. An effort has been made to swerve Judge Turner of Georgia from his stand for individual income tax and induce him to support the taxation in incomes of corporations, but thus far without avail. Chairman Wilson, Bourke Cochran, and Representative Breckinridge of Arkansas walked home together after the meeting, but were decidedly non-committal as to what they thought would be the outcome of the discussion.

Some of the democrats in the house and senate who oppose an income tax have suggested the advisability of raising the revenues which would accrue from incomes by a restoration of the tax on sugar not exceeding one cent a pound. The suggestion is one that the committee is not likely to regard favorably. From the data at hand the committee learn that the consumption of sugar in this country since the duty was removed has increased from ten to fifteen pounds per capita. The increase comes almost entirely from the use of sugar in the fruit industry, which received a great stimulus from the introduction in this country of free, raw sugar. Not only has the home market enlarged, but the shipments of American fruit have greatly increased. A restoration of the sugar duty, it is believed, would seriously embarrass this growing industry.

Naval and Military Changes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The year 1894 will be prolific in important naval changes. Five rear admirals and one commodore, who hold important naval commands, will be placed on the retired list, necessitating the appointment of their successors, promotions and other changes all along the line.

The most important army retirement during the new year will be that of Maj.-Gen. O. O. Howard, who commands the department of the east, with headquarters at Governor's Island. He will celebrate his 64th birthday Nov. 8, and will go upon the retired list that day. The only other general officer who will retire during the year is Commissioner-General John P. Hawkinson, Sept. 29. There will be no retirements on account of age in the cavalry.

Oates Not to Oppose Morgan.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—A report has been telegraphed from this city and widely circulated that Congressman Oates would oppose Senator Morgan for the senate before the next session of the Alabama legislature in November. The report is pronounced by well-informed Alabama politicians as being not well founded. Senator Morgan's reelection is regarded as a certainty, as he has the united support of the regular democracy, and his candidacy is favorably looked upon also by the Kolbites because of his free silver views. When Congressman Oates was in Alabama recently he said he would oppose Senator Pugh for the senate three years hence, and this statement probably gave rise to the story that he would run against Morgan.

Justice Long's Pension Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—It is expected the decision in the case of Judge Charles Long of Michigan against Commissioner of Pensions Lochren, seeking restoration of his former pension rating, will not be rendered before the latter part of next week. It is possible, however, that it will be delivered by Justice Bradley of the district supreme court Tuesday. The decision has not yet been prepared, as Judge Bradley wishes to consult various authorities on the subject.

Kearsarge Arrived at San Domingo.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—A cablegram received at the navy department announced the arrival of the Kearsarge at San Domingo. No particulars are given about the situation there, and nothing is expected for a day or two. Her commanding officer, it is supposed, has not yet had time to make an investigation of the reported killing of American sailors by the Dominican troops.

MILKMAN MERTES HERE ON HIS WAY TO CHICAGO

He's the Witness Whose Testimony Is the Most Vital In the Cronin Case.

CAPTAIN SCHUEITLER WITH HIM

These Two Men Have Played Very Important Parts In Both Of The Trials.

Two men who have cast the blackest shadows over the trial of Daniel Cronin, the alleged murderer of Dr. P. H. Cronin were in Janesville Saturday night.

They were Captain A. F. Schueitler, of the Chicago police force, to whose bright detective work much of the state's strength is due and William Mertens, the milkman whose testimony is perhaps the most direct and damaging against Cronin. The pair passed through Janesville on the 6:35 train Saturday evening.

Captain Schueitler's work in inducing Mertens to return entailed considerable hardship. The two men had come from Mertens' home in the pines of Wisconsin, whither Captain Schueitler had gone last Wednesday night. The former's connection with the first Cronin trial had ruined his business and he had left the city as soon as possible. Finding a man who would exchange his farm in Northern Wisconsin for the milk establishment in Chicago, he made a bargain and went north. Failing to profit by the new enterprise, and losing his lands through debts, he took a homestead claim of one hundred and sixty acres from the government near Needah and is now prospering very fairly.

When Captain Schueitler left for Needah, the probabilities were that he would return alone. The attorneys knew the general locality in which the ex-milkman might be found, but a matter of still greater doubt than his discovery was whether or not he could be persuaded to come to Chicago and testify. It is a hard thing to get a witness from one state into another. Mertens had been once ruined in business by his connection with the Cronin case, and it was known he had a strong aversion to having anything more to do with it.

Captain Schueitler went, however, with a determination to bring back Mertens if it was possible. After a ride of 300 miles to Needah, by diligent inquiry he learned that Mertens was living in Preston, Adams county, within the nearest post office at Rockville. This was in the heart of the pines. Taking a sleigh, the police captain rode sixty miles through the roughest country, and found the man he was looking for. The captain's persuasion and the ex-milkman's desire to see Chicago again overcame all his prejudice. The prosecution are in jubilant spirits over the arrival of Mertens, whose story means so much to their cause.

To Testify This Week.

Mertens' testimony is very important in the case. The story he will tell is that on the night of May 4, 1889, as he was passing the Carlson cottage at about 8:30 o'clock he saw two men drive up to the cottage and one of them get out. The man who was driving quickly wheeled the carriage about and disappeared in the night. The other man ran up the steps of the cottage, took a key from his pocket, unlocked the door and entered.

Sounds of hammering came to the ears of Mertens. The man who drove away Mertens swears John Kunze. The man who entered the cottage he will testify was Daniel Cronin. This is the most direct story of Cronin's connection with the affair that the police have and upon it they "bank" a great deal in their attempt to put Cronin on the end of Sheriff Gilbert's rope.

WILSON HANDLES MAIL FOR JANESVILLE FOLK

C. E. Bowles Steps Out and the Democratic Appointee Takes the Post Office.

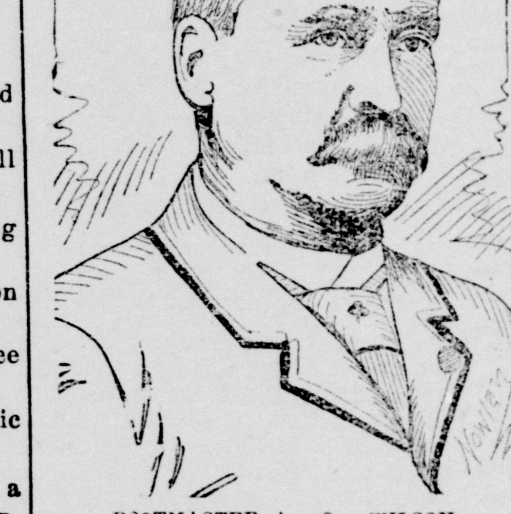

NO CLERICAL CHANGES YET MADE

T. B. Leachey Said To Have Been Promised The Post Office First Assistant.

It is now Postmaster Wilson.

The editor took charge at 12 o'clock last night and spent this morning admiring the locks on the mail pouches and signing his name with all the different rubber stamps in the office. New Year's day was spent by Messrs. Bowles and Wilson in checking up the stamps, postal cards and envelopes were counted and receipts given. This morning the last receipts were exchanged and C. E. Bowles was once more a private citizen with an eye on good real estate.

No changes were made in the clerical force of the office. For the time being Miss M. E. Peterson will remain as first assistant and Al. Kemmett, as second.

POSTMASTER A. O. WILSON.

Charles Patterson and George Powers will keep their old posts. T. B. Leachey has been promised the post of assistant postmaster, it is whispered, but the transfer will not be made for some time. Civil service rules interfere to a certain extent, all the positions in the Janesville office except those of postmaster and special delivery messenger being on the service list.

Postmaster Wilson will retain his editorial connection with the Recorder for a time, but expects to be kept very busy looking after Uncle Sam's interests.

The retiring postmaster wasn't allowed to see the old year out in solid rule. All the clerks and carriers gathered at the Bowles home about 8 o'clock last evening and spent a few hours very pleasantly at cards. They didn't depart until 12 o'clock, when the host's term of office came to an end.

"I haven't made any plans for my future," said Mr. Bowles to a Gazette representative this morning. "I am likely to look around for awhile before I go into any business."

"Will it be real estate?"

"I have a strong leaning that way, and yet there isn't much of a boom in the real estate market just now."

SHE WAS CONTEMPTING SUICIDE

Woman Saved From Death in the Ice River Last Night.

'Twas midnight, and the light from the single lamp which adorned the bridge across the river yawned pitilessly beneath, served but to emphasize the inky blackness of the night and to make its darkness more visible. A figure was on the bridge. It was a woman. Determination and desperation were written on her every feature, and her dark hair waved in the wind like the black flag of the pirates of old.

"One plunge" she whispered, "and all will be over." She cast about her last despairing look, and her eye beheld the lanterns of the city bill posters, who sleep not, neither do they eat, and who were about to commence their daily toil. Quickly they spread their paper, and the bill board before her and by the aid of their lanterns she discerned the words "John Dillon: A Model Husband; coming January 4."

A light of infinite relief spread over her features and she joyously exclaimed "At last, I have found him for whom I have searched these many years. This he! A model husband! My life is saved," and so saying she hastily left the bridge and the river was cheated of its prey.

EXPRESS COMPANY ECONOMIZES

Democratic Times Cause the Discharge of 150 American Employees.

Democratic times have struck the American Express Company, one of the strongest corporations on earth, and despite the fact that no collection agency is half as good a collector and no other company could have as few outstanding bills of money due, they are economizing. One hundred and fifty employees in the Chicago office and on runs outside of Chicago have been laid off. Will Watt and Martin Truison of the Janesville force both feel the force of the order as they are taking a vacation, while Charles Knippenburg, who has been a messenger is back in the local office. E. J. Bennett does all the collecting and delivering of freight. Will Watt's wagon being dispensed with. The express business has been very light this season and Christmas trade was lighter than was ever known before.

Mr. Lloyd had just picked up the animal's foot when the horse raised up the other one, a projecting nail catching in the flesh of his finger and tearing it free in an instant. Mr. Lloyd had Dr. Palmer dress the wound which is a most painful one, and for some time he will be laid up.

"PROF." STEWART GETS A JOB

Professor I. N. Stewart who was the former superintendent of Janesville schools, but who becomes the editor of a democratic paper after he is removed from Janesville has a terrible itching for office. Tobacco Growers, Attention! The prospects are that very few sales will be made of the 1893 crop before May 1, 1894. Buyers will not invest until they are satisfied as to damage by black rot. We have decided to open our warehouse January 1, 1894, for the proper handling of farmers' crops. You cannot be too careful in putting it up if you wish to avoid this damage. We will assort your crop and furnish you cases free for 12 cents per pound. Call and see us before our list is full. If we buy next spring we propose to give the crops we handle first choice.

COLUMBIA STOCK SOLD TO KLINE FOR $3,950.

Janesville Dry Goods and Shoes Bought Up In the Interest Of Mortgages.

TWO LOCAL FIRMS PUT IN BIDS

Doubt As To a Clear Title Caused The Offer To Be Held Rather Low.

The Columbia stock went under the hammer at $100,000, the amount S. J. Kline, of Chicago, bought it in the interest of the mortgages. There are nine chattel mortgages aggregating $5,900 as follows:

George P. Gore & Co. $2500

A. A. Putnam 500

H. E. Patrick & Co. 200

Joseph Hatfield & Co. 200

May McHenry 700

Hayes-Partridge Shoe Co. 500

W. C. Bryan Shoe Co. 300

May C. Smith, trustee 300

Hall McHenry 200

Bidding began slowly. There were a hundred people in the store, many of them merchants but they didn't like the idea of buying a stock of which no invoice had been made. There was also a question as to the title. Besides the mortgage their are numerous open accounts on which settlement is demanded.

"Can you guarantee a clear title?" Attorney Jeffris was asked as he began the sale.

"I shouldn't guarantee anything," said Mr. Jeffris. "I am here simply to sell the stock."

S. J. Kline made the first bid, three thousand dollars.

"Thirty-two," said W. H. Greenman, after considerable delay.

"Thirty-two fifty," put in Mr. Kline. Mr. Greenman bought it to $3,300, and J. M. Bostwick to $3,350.

There were only three bidders, but between them they ran the price up to within fifty dollars of four thousand. At $3,950 it stuck, and all Attorney Jeffris' eloquence availed nothing.

"The stock is bought in the interest of all the mortgages," said Mr. Kline. "It will be closed out in this city."

The sale opens to-morrow morning.

We are out for blood this year. Our starter is a pant's sale. How would $1.50, $5.00 and $6.00 pants at $3.00 go? Such is the case at Ziegler's. For just three days we will do this, commencing Wednesday January 3, ending Friday night January 5. Then no more will go at this price. You will find in this sale our best all wool worsted, cassimere and chevrot pants, which were formerly the above mentioned values. Pretty fair offer, isn't it? The price is still $8.00 sack and cutaway for business and dress. This sale is pretty thoroughly noised around town. Better get in while the snap is on. Cloth your boys while you can save from $1.00 to $2.00 on each suit. We have a large assortment. Ziegler, Cor. Main and Milwaukee streets.

ENLARGED.

The Dr. McChesney Medical and Surgical Dispensary compelled to Have More Room—Two More Fine Rooms Added.

Dr. McChesney, the most eminent eye, ear, nose, throat and lung specialist ever in Janesville, has had his office open for business but a little more than a month, and we will venture the assertion that he is now enjoying a much better practice than a great many physicians who have been here years. He has such a large number of patients that he was compelled to add another large room for a reception room. At times there is scarcely room to sit down in his reception room. The simple reason of this business is the fact that he cures his patients. He has people treating with him and getting well, who have treated with many other physicians in Janesville for years, and received no benefit. Dr. McChesney can name a number who have spent hundreds of dollars with other doctors and received no relief.

We have in mind now a certain lady and gentleman, residents of this town, who have treated with almost every physician in Janesville for catarrh and deafness, spent pills of money
